

Summer Concerts 2016

The Dewlish Chapel Middle Street, Dewlish, Dorchester

All concerts start at 7.30pm

Saturday 25th June - Violin and Viola Duets

A lively programme including music by Bach, Telemann, Bartok, Mozart and other classics. With Lucy-Anne Allen (violin) and Aidan Fisher (viola). Lucy-Anne Allen plays for shows, operas, orchestras and in recitals. Recent work includes Sting's DVD, Phantom of the Opera and ITV's "Doors Open". Aidan Fisher is a player, composer, conductor and teacher. He has worked with the Bournemouth Symphony Orchestra, appeared on BBC Radios 2 and 3 and is on several commercial recordings with Naxos.

Saturday 2nd July - Lutes and Guitars

Music from five centuries on nine different period and contemporary plucked instruments. A colourful musical journey; Renaissance Dances, Baroque splendour, Romantic guitar and Jazz, with Robert Foster - a virtuoso musician with a diverse career. Sir Simon Rattle, Sir Elton John, The South Bank, Lincoln Early Music and Cambridge are some of the festivals and people he has worked with. Robert is also a composer of many TV sound tracks. His show will include some of his own guitar compositions.

This concert will take place in All Saints Church, Dewlish.

Saturday 9th July - The Wandering Winds

Present "Far From The Madding Crowd" a programme of music and poetry inspired by the varied landscapes of Dorset. With Katy Ashman (flute & bassoon), Miles Nipper (bassoon & contra-bassoon) and Richard Hall (piano). Katy Ashman is a local musician, player, arranger and conductor and runs Dorset's Musica Music and Wellbeing workshops for adults. Miles Nipper was Band Sergeant Major of the Royal Signals Band. He now plays, teaches, arranges and conducts. Dr Richard Hall is Director of the Dorset Rural Music School.

Saturday 16th July - Serpent Recital

with Phil Humphries (serpent) accompanied by Walter Brewster (piano)

A captivating show with music through the ages featuring this versatile ancient instrument. Phil Humphries is a trombonist, serpentist and brass teacher with a diverse career playing for television's "Come Dancing", film and TV versions of Hardy novels, national orchestras and ensembles and recordings. Walter Brewster is a clarinetist, pianist and teacher. Sir Simon Rattle, Sir Colin Davis, Lorin Maazel, BBC Philharmonic, Royal Liverpool Philharmonic and Bournemouth Symphony Orchestra are just a few names from his impressive CV.

Concert admissions £8.00 each. Booking Essential.

Reservations Telephone 01258 837034

Email: anitalaw@btinternet.com

www.artist-anita-law.co.uk